Humans have three parts: Body, Soul, and Spirit

The soul is in between the spirit and the body; it binds the spirit and the body together as one. The spirit rules over the body through the soul and subjects it under God's power. The body can induce the spirit to love the world through the soul. In conclusion, the soul is the source of the personality; man's judgment, intellect, and

THE FUNCTIONS OF THE SPIRIT, THE SOUL, AND THE BODY

The body is the outer level, followed by the soul and the spirit is the core. The expression of love to God paved the way through the soul. We first magnify God's power and grace, and then we express and experience it fully through our spirit. The function of the spirit is spiritual.

What Is the Difference Between a Soul and a Spirit?

1 st - The importance of understanding the different attributes and functions of spirit, soul, and body is that it provides the necessary spiritual discernment to distinguish between the workings of the "old man" (flesh, Adamic nature) and the workings of the "new man" (indwelling Holy Spirit). Knowing the point or place where something begins is crucial to understanding the interaction caused by it.

The trinity of man is an essential part of the image relationship between him and God. Life is not ultimately physical and the body is not the whole man. And we might add that neither the body in itself, nor the soul in itself, nor the spirit in itself makes up the whole man, but he is "spirit and soul and body."

THE SPIRIT and SOUL LEAVE the BODY at DEATH
YOU ARE SPIRIT, SOUL AND BODY (AND WHY IT IS IMPORTANT TO KNOW THIS) Every person who has accepted Jesus Christ as his/her personal saviour must understand that God has designed us, His people, to be triune as He is (He created us in His image, Gen. 1: 26). A human being therefore consists of spirit, soul and

This study guide focuses upon what the Bible (NIV) says about the Holy Spirit. We gathered together several couples interested in our initial study. Then compiled all references to the "Holy Spirit" in the Bible. In the process we found that Scripture actually mentioned 'heart' more often and subsequently looked at and compiled all the references to the 'heart', 'soul', and 'spirit(s)', in order that we and the other study participants might begin to explore the relationships between the Holy Spirit and these other important parts of being a human being and a Christian. The effort of this study was to stay close to the Word; that is, rather than rely on the interpretations of scholars and other authors, we sought to invite the Holy Spirit directly into our hearts through study of the Word. In the end, we spent the first four weeks studying the references in Scripture to heart, soul, spirit, and demons, respectively, each week. Then we spent a week studying references that included mentions of combinations of heart and soul, body and mind. Finally, we spent three weeks studying Biblical references to the Spirit of God, the Spirit of Jesus and the Holy Spirit, to see if we might more clearly discern the operations of the Holy Spirit upon our hearts, souls, bodies and minds. The source material was assembled for our study participants, as it is for you, in three forms: The first is contained in the Appendices - it is a direct compilation of the sentences in Scripture that contain each word studied each week. The second form entailed Damian arranging those passages thematically and then sequentially, removing duplication, as well as doing some minimal editing to create a smooth narrative. This 'condensation' was quite helpful is soul in relation to the activity of the senses and to the subtle processes that make up the human being on Earth. The next four lectures focus on what we can know of the human soul based on direct observation alone. No theorizing takes place. To show what we can know of soul life through the immediacy of engaged observation of oneself and others, Rudolf Steiner refrains from using his own higher capacities of clairvoyance to form a picture of our soul life. The concluding lectures portray the relationship of soul life to spirit life, showing us how to awaken individual spirit life and how to distinguish between illusory and genuine spiritual experiences. Presented more than a century ago, we might be tempted to think that, insofar as psychology is concerned, the content of these lectures are outdated. It is also tempting to think that, because Steiner is not usually associated with the founders of modern psychology, his efforts must be considered, at best, an interesting aside. On the contrary, these lectures are actually a wellspring for the true stream of psychology, as the term itself means "soul study."
