While becoming a personal trainer may seem to be a cumbersome undertaking in the digital era, it is more viable than ever before. Advantageously, pursuing a career as a personal trainer can allow you to pivot to embracing your higher aspirations and having more robust career options in the future years. In other words, embracing a career as a "personal training can often be a versatile jumping-off point for other career opportunities, such as being a fitness instructor, a health writer" (Laferrara, 2019) or global educator. In order to become a personal trainer, you will need to first and foremost " get certified as a personal trainer" (Laferrara, 2019). As a prospective personal trainer, it would therefore behoove you to become certified by a "certifying organization that has been accredited. Certifying organizations have their certification procedures and protocols accredited by an independent third party, such as the NCCA or DEAC" (Laferrara, 2019). In order to be able to take the Personal Trainer Certification Exam, most certifying organizations require that you have already obtained the "CPR certification and AED certification, have earned a high school diploma or GED, and are at least 18 years" (Laferrara, 2019) old. The costs to become a Personal Trainer and take the Personal Trainer Examination "varies from about $300 to significantly more than $1000, and may not include the study materials nor access to workshops" (Laferrara, 2019). Once you have passed the Personal Trainer Certification Exam, you will have to complete continuing education requirements, such as completing 20-60 hours of continuing education courses every two years, in order to preclude having your Personal Trainer Certification expire. Once you have passed your Personal Trainer Certification Exam, you will be poised to find a job as a personal trainer. You can work for a fitness center as an employee or be an independent contractor for a business without having to deal with the onerous burden of having to find your own clients. Personal trainers can work at "commercial gyms, personal training studios, local community centers, hospitals wellness centers, cruise ships, resorts, and corporate fitness centers. Working at a popular commercial gym can be a great way to get experience and many of those clubs, such as XSport, 24 Hour Fitness, Gold's Gym, and Planet Fitness, often hire new trainers all the time. Some of the ample drawbacks can be lower pay, working on commission, lots of selling, and having to work long hours doing new member orientations to get new clients" (Laferrara, 2019). Being employed at other work sites also has its shortcomings. Even though "many hospitals employ personal trainers to help patients recover from illnesses and conditions"(Laferrara, 2019), personal trainers render themselves more vulnerable to contracting a virus by working in a hospital setting. "Working at a hospital may require a higher degree or a specialty for working with clients who may have health challenges" (Laferrara, 2019). A myriad of personal trainers prefer to work on cruise ships or at all-inclusive resorts.
